

Pilotless Plane Guided 150 Miles To Korean Target

Editor's Note: Release of the following eyewitness dispatch reporting use of a new weapon in the Korean War—a guided missile—was delayed by the U. S. Navy for security reasons. No pictures were permitted, for the same reason.

Aboard The Aircraft Carrier Boxer, Sept. 1 (Delayed and censored), (AP)—One of the most dramatic and historic events of the Korean War occurred on this ship today, and the hundreds of crewmen are still tingling with excitement. So am I.

We watched a guided missile roar off a catapult, climb northwestward in a sweeping turn, and head for a dangerous, flak-ridden Communist target in North Korea, more than 150 miles away.

As the craft streaked toward its target, electronic experts in a secret room on this ship rode with the missile, mile by mile, through wondrous electronic instruments.

On their dials in the secret room, the experts crossed the Sea of Japan and watched the jagged peaks of Eastern Korea loom in the distance and grow larger.

For from the missile an automatic device transmitted every dying moment of its last hour to the USS Boxer.

Overland, the craft throbbed toward its goal as the seconds ticked away and the tenseness grew in the safe electronics room. The missile lost altitude now and nosed into a final dive, with a powerful warhead locked in its belly.

The target—an enemy concentration in a valley between two shadowy hills—was indicated on the receiving instruments now—a real flak-trap for any hapless Allied pilot.

Second to go now—the signal on the instruments grew stronger as the guided missile dove straight at the target, at hundreds of miles an hour.

Then the instruments suddenly went blank. The screaming dive had ended, squarely on the target.

And we on the ship knew that here, at last in actual combat, was a new era of battle—an era when electronic brains will ride into tough, dangerous places, saving the lives of American pilots.

Washington, (AP)—The age of true push-button war has opened in Korea, signalled by roaring blasts from robot missiles guided head-on into Communist targets by Americans safe miles away.

The Navy announced that "a number of guided missiles have been launched successfully against Communist targets in North Korea from the U. S. S. Boxer," a 27,000-ton carrier.

The announcement came after Navy censorship cleared a delayed eye-witness account by Associated Press Staff Photographer Fred Waters of the first such launching.

While keeping many details secret, the Navy released this account of how the robot attack is made:

"A guide plane, carrying special electronic control equipment, is sent aloft. The missile, armed with a powerful warhead, is moved onto a catapult (on the carrier). A guide plane, aboard the carrier, sends the missile roaring skyward by means of electronic devices. As the missile reaches a pre-determined altitude, the airborne guide plane then takes over and directs the weapon to the target area. At the time the missile is ready to make its payoff dive, the guide plane is miles away, out of anti-aircraft range.

"An AD2 Skyraider (a Douglas attack plane) has been used as the guide plane in these initial missile attacks. "All during its flight, from the deck of the carrier to the target, the progress of the missile is recorded in a specially-equipped electronics room aboard the ship.

"A team of five officers and seven enlisted men headed by Lt. Comdr. Lawrence A. Kurtz of Washington, D. C., make up the Navy's first operational guided missile unit (guided missile unit No. 90). The unit was trained at the Naval Air Development Center, Johnsville, Pa."

Ike Against T-H Repeal; HST Replies To 'Big Lie'

New York, (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told the American Federation of Labor yesterday he is against repealing the Taft-Hartley labor law but in favor of amending it.

The Republican presidential candidate emphasized he would not support "any amendments which weaken the rights of the working men and women."

The approximately 2,000 union people in the AFL Convention Hall stood and clapped as Eisenhower entered and when he concluded his speech. They interrupted the talk with applause 13 times.

But they sat silently as he took a position directly opposite that of his Democratic rival, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, on repeal of the labor law.

And they "sat on their hands" through lengthy passages in which he struck out at Stevenson and President Truman's Democratic administration.

The convention is slated to endorse a presidential candidate next Tuesday for the first time in AFL history.

Stevenson, who will address the delegates Monday, generally is expected to win the endorsement because of his stand against the Taft-Hartley law. The CIO already has endorsed Stevenson.

Eisenhower said that, in seeking Taft-Hartley amendments, he would ask the advice of "all groups—public, management and labor." He said some of the principles he thought should "continue in law" were:

"The encouragement of collective bargaining; the right to strike; an advance notice before a strike is called; a requirement that both unions and employers live up to contracts; the assurance that members of unions get a regular report on their organization's finances."

Eisenhower declared he knew the Taft-Hartley law, as it stands, might be used to break unions, and was applauded when he declared:

"That must be changed. America wants no law licensing union-busting. Neither do I."

Loudest applause came when he said that if loyalty oaths were required of "patriotic American union leaders," they should be required of employers, too.

Washington, (AP)—President Truman said yesterday some persons are using "the big lie in order to reap personal or partisan advantages" and declared this is just an un-American as Hitler and Stalin.

He named no names in his speech to the National Conference on Citizenship. But he left no doubt he had in mind certain Republican senators in his scathing denunciation of what he called "the big lie technique."

"It is a big lie," the President asserted, "to say that we tolerate Communists and other disloyal persons in our government."

"It is a big lie to attack one of the greatest generals and patriots whom this country ever had and call him a traitor."

This last was an obvious reference to Gen. George C. Marshall, war-time Army chief of staff, whom Truman named both secretary of state and secretary of defense.

Marshall has come under severe attack from Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana, Republicans running for re-election this year.

"The Communist conspiracy is a definite and disciplined group of people who are fanatically dedicated to carrying out the purposes of the Soviet Union," Truman said. "These people can be identified, isolated, prosecuted in many cases and rendered harmless."

"But this group does not include everybody we disagree with. We are not engaged in an effort to stamp out differences of opinion, but to root out a conspiracy."

People who confuse innocent persons with Communists are not helping to make our nation secure."

In a statement distributed by the Republican National Committee, Rep. Katherine St. George of New York replied to Truman's charges about "big lies." She accused Truman himself of lying.

She said Truman once tried to protect Alger Hiss by saying charges of Communism in government were a red herring.

Lock Haven Lifts Ban On Meetings

Lock Haven, (AP)—The city of Lock Haven, hard hit by polio, lifted its ban yesterday against public meetings as the number of cases from the disease mounted to 900 cases across Pennsylvania.

The Lock Haven Board of Health permitted normal resumption of city life after noting no new cases of the disease have developed since Monday. The ban against public meetings, included churches and theaters, was imposed August 13 and was extended to taprooms a week ago.

House Burns; Loss Placed At $25,000

Henryville—Fire of an undetermined origin swept through a two and a half story dwelling near here Tuesday night, leveling the structure estimated to be nearly 100 years old. Damage has been estimated at between $20,000 and $25,000.

Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co. was summoned at 7:15 p.m. by a neighbor who reported seeing flames leap high into the air a quarter of a mile away. When firemen reached the scene the blaze already had a head start and the roof of the structure began to collapse.

Hoses were played on the burning building for two hours, with the supply of water coming from an artificial lake on the property owned by George Miller, of Philadelphia.

Miller purchased the 52-acre tract only three weeks ago from Nathan Abelfor, Stroudsburg business man. Neighbors reported the Millers spent the weekend at the summer home but no one was around when the fire broke out.

Edward Metzgar, fire chief, said firemen fought desperately to save another structure, a small frame bungalow adjoining the large home. Aside from blistered paint, the bungalow went unscathed.

The home was located between Meisertown and Tannersville and formerly was owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Post.

Firemen were back at their station at 10:30 p.m. The charred ruins still were smoldering late yesterday but nothing remained to be destroyed and firemen were not forced to stand watch over the site.

Stevenson To Invade Ohio

Springfield, Ill., (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson—who says Sen. Robert A. Taft has taken over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's campaign—soon will carry his battle for the presidency into Taft's home state of Ohio.

The Democratic nominee's plans were disclosed yesterday by his campaign manager, Wilson Wyatt, who also announced that Stevenson's first major speech on a week-long Eastern tour starting today in Connecticut will deal with the nation's atomic energy program.

Wyatt told a news conference that after the Eastern swing, Stevenson will rest for a day and a half at his campaign base here in Springfield, then take off Sept. 26 on another trip which will include speeches in Cincinnati—Taft's home city—and Columbus, Ohio; Indianapolis, Ind.; and Louisville, Ky.

Refugees Flown From Wake Island To Honolulu

Honolulu, (AP)—Relays of planes yesterday flew scores of refugees from stricken Wake, tiny airfield island smashed Tuesday by one of the worst typhoons in the Pacific's stormy history.

Wreath, bedraggled arrivals in Honolulu told of heroism in a time of terror, of trees and wreckage from Quonset huts flying through the air like straw, and of the very grass flattened by the pressure of the 161-mile winds.

Rescue plane crews bringing in food and water found only four injured among the more than 750 persons who were caught in the storm.

Only the most essential workers were remaining on the coral island.

DE AWARE WATER GAP—Preparing the base for re-location of the highway between here and Tinkertown Crossing—diagonally across Croasdale's field—H. R. Miller Construction Co. is using a huge "pen" which scoops up, moves and relays up to 25 tons of earth. Road in foreground is existing highway at curve around Croasdale Manor. Most of this field will be consumed by a four-lane overhead approach to the new bridge and traffic interchanges.

McGrath Denounces Truman For Firing Lamar Caudle

Washington, (AP)—Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath yesterday slapped sharply at President Truman, his old friend and political enemy, for firing T. Lamar Caudle—a central figure in congressional tax scandal inquiries.

"If firing was going to be the order of the day," McGrath told House investigators, "there were plenty of places to start besides Lamar Caudle."

McGrath also angrily defended a newer figure in tax investigations—Ellis N. Slack, demoted this week from the rank of assistant attorney general after allegations that he helped the Justice Department try to whitewash a St. Louis tax fraud probe.

McGrath insisted Slack was "an upright and honorable man." McGrath added that he approved—and still approves—a preliminary St. Louis grand jury report denounced by jurors as a whitewash and by a federal judge as astonishing.

McGrath, long a stalwart in the Truman administration, was questioned all day about recent high-level administration shake-ups and a wide range of other topics as a House Judiciary subcommittee headed by Rep. Clegg (D-Ky.) continued its investigation of the Justice Department.

FBI Seizes 18 Reds In Three States

Washington, (AP)—The FBI nabbed 18 subversive and smaller fry Communist party leaders from three states yesterday in a series of arrests stretching from Detroit to Los Angeles.

All were charged with conspiring to advocate overthrow of the United States government by force—the same charge that already has sent the nation's top Red leaders to prison and has brought conviction of 14 second string party officials in California. Fifteen others are on trial in New York.

Yesterday's arrests came—possibly by design—on the 165th anniversary of the ratification of the U. S. Constitution, a fact noted by Atty. Gen. McGrath in a statement praising FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover for the swiftness and completeness of the roundup.

A Bomb Output High

San Francisco (AP)—AEC Chairman Gordon Dean said yesterday the time will come when the United States can stop making atomic weapons because it will have enough on hand "to destroy completely an enemy's power to make war."

Train Hits School Bus; Four Killed

Monessen, (AP)—Four high school students—three girls and a boy—were killed and 46 other pupils injured yesterday when a freight train rumbled a school bus breaking it into a huge pile of junk.

Latest victim of the crash was Ronald Sayka, 17, of West Newton. He died several hours after the tragedy. He had been a patient in Westmoreland Hospital, Greensburg, with a skull fracture.

Fourteen other injured boys and girls are reported in serious condition.

The three girls who died in the crash are Janice Everett, 17, a senior; Norma Bergman, 15; and Leola Bradley, 14. Janice and Leola lived in Collinsburg within sight of the crossing. Norma lived in nearby West Newton.

Bus driver Edward Steiner, 23, was taken into custody for questioning. He was a victim of shock. Only an inch or two made the difference between disaster and safety.

The front of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad locomotive snagged the rear bumper on the orange bus on a street crossing in Collinsburg, a small coal mining town about 20 miles south of Pittsburgh.

Safety Record

New York, (AP)—The nation's railroads provided 17 billion passenger-miles of service in the first half of this year without a passenger fatality in a train collision or derailment, railroad and industrial leaders were told here last night.

20-Cent Hike Cancels Threat Of Walkout

Washington, (AP)—John L. Lewis won a 20-cent boost in the anthracite industry's welfare fund royalty yesterday in an agreement which cancelled any threat of a hard coal strike and left Lewis free for his annual tussle with soft coal mine owners.

The anthracite producers, whose mines are concentrated in Eastern Pennsylvania, signed a temporary agreement with Lewis increasing their tonnage royalty payments to finance miner pensions and other benefits from 30 to 50 cents effective Oct. 1.

With soft coal mines in most Northern states facing a strike by Lewis' United Mineworkers members next Monday, there were these other developments:

One—The government moved to freeze stocks of unsold soft coal at mines facing the Monday strike threat. This will save an estimated million tons of coal for doing out later by government orders.

Two—The top negotiator for Southern soft coal producers, Joseph E. Moody, told reporters that commercial mines faced "economic suicide" if they accepted the union demands for increased wages, boosted welfare fund royalty and shorter working hours. Moody indicated the soft coal negotiations are practically stalemated.

The anthracite agreement is a temporary arrangement providing that the 65,000 hard coal diggers will remain at work until a complete contract is negotiated. This left such matters as wage rates and other points to be agreed upon later, probably on whatever terms Lewis manages to wrest from the soft coal industry.

Edward G. Fox, chief anthracite industry negotiator, agreed with the unions in a joint news conference that the increased royalty payments are necessary to finance pensions, death, and lung disease treatment payments for the hard coal miners. Fox said most operators probably will seek authority from the government to boost hard coal prices.

The situation in the bituminous, or soft coal industry took on a more serious tone with the explanation by Moody of the wide disagreement between union and owners.

Lewis had arranged contract expirations so he would be free to strike members of the Bituminous Coal Operators' Association, representing most of the Northern states soft coal industry, on Monday and members of Moody's group, the Southern Coal Producers Association, on Oct. 1.

Michael Coffey Keeps Mother On Jump These Days

Lima, O., (AP)—This has been a heavy week for Michael Coffey, 3. The way his mother, Mrs. Cletus Coffey tells it, on Monday Mike climbed the piano, pulled two pictures from the wall and tossed down a bowl of roses atop them.

On Tuesday, he locked himself in the basement front cellar and had a tough time until his mother let him out. Yesterday at breakfast he jammed a small rubber ball down the toaster and turned the electricity on.

Firemen said the stench was terrific when they unplugged the gadget and Mrs. Coffey verified the odor when she talked by telephone with the Lima News.

Midway in her telephone conversation, Mrs. Coffey excused herself. It seems Mike had both legs jammed into one leg of his pants and he was yelling for help.

Search For Desperadoes Called Off When Trucker Admits Reported Robbery A Hoax

Wilmington, Del., (AP)—A day-long hunt for three robbers, believed possibly the same ones who escaped from the Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary a week ago, was called off last night by Delaware state police with an announcement the reported robbery was a "phony."

Police said later the 25-year-old milk truck driver who reported he had been robbed yesterday morning had admitted his story was not true.

The report came as more than 50 heavily armed state policemen and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents were moving in a skirmish line through a mile square wood where Thomas Fleming, of Wilmington, had said he was held up by three men.

All through the day, police and FBI agents had clamped a tight block on the area, set up blockades across all highways leading into the section, which is four miles north of Wilmington. With a maximum force assembled, the skirmish line was formed at 6 p.m. and the officers with a walkie-talkie radio started into the woods.

Fleming had been under questioning by Delaware state police from the time he first reported the robbery. He told police then that a man had stopped him on a narrow, tree-lined road and that two other men stepped out of the woods, holding him up at gunpoint.

Later he examined FBI circulars of wanted persons and said the unmasked man who stopped his truck resembled Joseph Nolen, 26, of Harlan, Ky. Nolen, his brother, Ballard, 22, and Elmer Scheur, 21, of Chicago, have been the objects of the biggest man hunt in the Pennsylvania-Delaware-Maryland area since they escaped from the Lewisburg prison last Wednesday. All three were serving terms for bank robbery.

Det. Charles Hughes of the Delaware state police said that Fleming has been charged with making a false complaint to the police.

The detective said that Fleming, after hours of questioning, had confessed that he conceived the idea of reporting the robbery "on an impulse."

Before Fleming's holdup report, a woman had reported seeing three men parked in a station wagon on a rural road outside Reading, Pa., 65 miles northwest of Wilmington. She said the vehicle carried Delaware license plates and that two of the three men resembled pictures of the fugitives.

The Reading tip was investigated by nine carloads of Pennsylvania state police.

Now---November 4

While it is still too early to analyze thoroughly the astounding registration totals in Pennsylvania, it is apparent that all records for the Commonwealth have been exceeded and that the presidential election of November 4 will produce the highest total ballots in the history of the state.

The Daily Record has been in the forefront of the drive for increased registration, pointing out in news stories, editorials and special features the inherent responsibility of citizens in a free land to take active part in every election, and many other organizations and individuals have pressed the need for registration.

It became obvious early in the game that the men and women of the country were intent upon qualifying for this year's presidential election, and when the doors closed at the county courthouse last Saturday at 5 p.m., the largest number of registrations ever placed on record jammed the files.

Other Pennsylvania counties reported the same enthusiastic interest in the rush to register, with only a few falling behind all-time record highs.

This determination on the part of the average citizen to register carries with it one of the most hopeful signs we've seen—equal determination to vote on November 4.

Daniel Bolich Says---

In Brooklyn, a grand jury, after many months of investigation, has indicted Daniel A. Bolich, formerly No. 2 man in the Internal Revenue Bureau—he of the $30 shirts and the $3.50 monogrammed hankies.

Mr. Bolich "explains" the indictment as follows:

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington, Sept. 17—It is now less than 50 days before the nation's voters go to the polls, a reminder that has Democratic National Committee members billing their bills in search of party speakers willing to come to the aid of Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

So far several prominent Democrats in the Senate have paid gallant lip service to the Governor, but all have refrained from taking the stump. Three in particular have behaved as though Stevenson is afflicted with political leprosy.

The Democratic National Committee, and Stevenson himself, have been anxious to send Senator Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee, on a nationwide speaking tour. The theory is that although the Stevenson forces might have been a little rough on Kefauver at the Chicago convention, he is worthy of a reward in exchange for helping erase the corruption stain on Democratic campaign promises.

Kefauver announced out loud that he would do all he could to help Stevenson—and in the next instant waved goodbye as he departed for Europe for a lengthy stay.

The Democrats, of course, have been chortling at length in party publications over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's discomfit in making peace with Senator Robert A. Taft, of Ohio. Stevenson repeatedly proclaims with glee that the GOP Party rift is beyond repair, that Taft and his following are going to stay home on November 4.

Party publications, however, have little to say about Senator Richard Russell, of Georgia, another victim of Stevenson's convention blitz. Just as in the case of Kefauver, Russell recited publicly that he, too, would do all he could to help elect the Illinois Governor President of the U.S.A.—and in the next breath announced that he was departing forthwith for a lengthy vacation in Venezuela.

With a stiff upper lip, the chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Stephen Mitchell, next sent an emissary to enlist the aid of Senator John McClellan, of Arkansas. Arkansas has 8 electoral votes and Mitchell is aware that this year they are vital. The Democrats have consistently carried Arkansas, of course, but this year there seems to be some gnawing doubt.

McClellan, with deep southern courtesies, allowed as how he couldn't wait to climb aboard the Stevenson bandwagon—that he was available for any chore—and then promptly announced he was leaving for a vacation in Europe.

The Democratic National Committee would like to strike a balance between the party's Right and Left-wing, insofar as speakers for the nominee are concerned. It has a rash of Lefties available, mostly of the Americans for Democratic Action ilk, who have been adopted by Stevenson as his brain trust. These include Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing, Secretary of Interior Oscar Chapman, and others in the presidential cabinet, such as Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin, who is interesting to observe from a forensic standpoint, but not very profound as a political philosopher.

What the National Committee wants is a few Southern Conservatives who are willing to close their eyes to the fact that Stevenson is a captive of the ADA. So far the committee has not succeeded in finding any. And after what happened in Texas, the search is even more frantic. The committee now considers it essential to unearth a prominent Southerner to say a kind word about the nominee and nobody means Vice President Allen Barkley, who also pledged his fealty to the nominee, but who thus far has remained in Kentucky hiding in his cotton patch.

The National Committee will not give up trying until it has tightened all the political screws available. In 1948, President Truman was stranded by the South. He was practically a one-man oratorical team, with only a few Cabinet officials willing to risk alignment with what looked like a sure loser. But 1948 is not 1952.

This year administration aides are suspect. Almost every department has been riddled with exposes of graft or Communism; several stalwarts have been booted out of their jobs. They have reduced the political potency of those still in office, and nobody knows it better than Stevenson and his Left-wing strategists.

Everytime they ask for help from the South, however, they increase the overseas tourist trade in direct proportion. It's downright puzzling why Senator Russell thinks there are Democratic votes in Venezuela, or why Kefauver is intent on campaigning in Paris and McClellan in other parts of Europe.

Very little of Holland's land surface rises more than 15 feet above sea level, while some of it is as much as six feet below.

The largest U. S. battleships take about three and one-half years to build. They are nearly 900 feet long.

"This indictment is the result of a political campaign. So far, there has been only one side of the story told. I have never had the opportunity to present my side."

In addition to several appearances before the grand jury which indicted him, Mr. Bolich last spring was summoned before the House Committee investigating the income tax scandals. At that time, he refused to answer dozens of questions on the ground that his answers "might tend to incriminate" him.

The Year 5713

Throughout the world, the Jewish people this week celebrate the beginning of a New Year for their most solemn holidays, Rosh Hashonah and Yom Kippur.

As in other recent years, their thoughts will be upon the new state of Israel, which began many years ago as the dream of the Jewish homeland and came into reality as a place of refuge for the most oppressed of World War II.

This new nation was built rapidly, and in the face of tremendous—almost insurmountable—difficulties. And as the difficulties were great, so was the achievement.

The Jewish people can look with satisfaction on their work thus far. Israel is recognized as a democratic nation in the strategic Middle East. Our government has helped with large-scale loans and grants-in-aid. More, individuals have aided economic development by investing in State of Israel Bonds.

This work will go forward. The need of those resettled in Israel requires it. And the qualities of courage, determination and skill which have thus far built the new nation will meet the need.

Acne About Town: Charles Chaplin strolling along West 51st Street, mulling to himself... N. Y. Giants' slugger Bobby Thompson autographing menus at Major's Cabin... Kyle McDunnell (sweetest songstress this side of Sardi's) signing autographs at the Roxy stage door... Jane Russell (the Sweater's Best Ad) carrying her knitting into Shor's... Copa star Joe E. Lewis... Nat "King" Cole, whose Capitol records just passed the 15 million sales mark... Lili St. Cyr (lamb of the flip-cracks) aimed at her finger, entering the Embers... Pitcher Sal Maglie, the grandstand manager to Gilmore... Mickey Spillane's comment at a cocktail party: "Hemingway's an author. I'm just a writer."

Sallies In Our Alley: Joe E. Louis was asked what the "E" (in his signature) stands for. "I took it," he gaged. "Overhead; 'Wonder why he keeps panning that lugate'." "Some people never forget a Face. He never forgets a lie!"

Multitask Vignette: Our returned and severest critic just returned to town. "Oh," he mourned (feigning tears and great pain) "what has happened to you? When I left you took on nothing but heavyweights, such as Hitler, Billo, Vishinsky, Rankin and Malik. Now I return to find you picking on Delicatessen!"

"I have been out of the ring for many months," he reminded him. "I have to warm up for Sunday night, October 5th, the date for my new sponsor, Gruen Watches (on Channel 7 at a quarter to 7), then 2 hours later in my old radio spot at 9 N. Y. Time. So I took on a few clay pigeons and fleas. By teary time they will have to take their turn in the alphabet again—because I'll be very busy stepping on more important cockroaches."

Times Square Roundup: The N. Y. Compost put brass all the way down to its "former comings" editor have been shuddering for days and nights that "the disgraceful story will leak." Which it sure has. "One of our star bylines took a hefty bribe to go easy" on another victim of its desperate bid for circulation. The Newspaper Guild knows the rest. Isn't the Diet Ait? Interested in this sort of thing? "Wish You Were Here" is now the town's hardest-ticket-to-get... Why Actors Go Ca-ra-ree: The N. Y. The Broadway Bus: Billy Rose's crack: "A man can't win a fight with a girl; was a paraphrase of G. B. Shaw's: 'No man is a match for a woman, except with a poker and a pair of hubbals boots. Not always even then.'" (From "Man and Superman")... John Barrymore said it too, viz: "When you get into a fight with a woman grab your hat and run!"... John Golden gives his "Male Animal" profits to stage charities. (Dotz Nine)...

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

The Party Prevails

The heart of the Taft-Eisenhower agreement is that the party, as an institution in American life, prevails over the cabal. Too many, the political party has, since 1940, become a lifeless conveyor belt to achieve their private purpose. They tried that during the Willkie campaign. The very same group has attempted it again in the present Eisenhower campaign. Apparently the General, although an amateur in politics, has recognized the fact that it is a party and not a personality that must win an election.

The process of negotiation has been most unusual. Senator Taft had already agreed to support the candidate of his party and had committed himself to deliver a limited number of speeches. After having done that, he went, as he has done every year, to Murray Bay for his vacation.

The practical men in the Eisenhower management recognized two facts:

1. That within the Republican Party, the resentment over the pre-eminence of the Dewey faction in the Eisenhower headquarters was taking on the form of inactivity amounting to sabotage.

2. That should Eisenhower be elected, he would find himself facing an antagonistic Republican Senate. He could not depend upon the leadership of Senator Alexander Smith of New Jersey who, while a splendid man, does not carry weight with the conservatives of his party, or Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., about whose re-election there are grave doubts.

They realized that Senator Robert A. Taft, no matter what happened in Chicago, remains the legislative and intellectual leader of his party. True, should Eisenhower be elected, he could over four years to reorganize his party that Taft's influence would disappear. But any study of the existing or prospective personnel of the Republican membership in Congress establishes Taft's position.

It was realized in advance that the only reason why Taft might be doubtful about full activity in the campaign would be an uncertainty as to the ideological position of the Eisenhower group. All his life engaged in politics, Taft must realize that the President-elect is, in a larger measure, a captive of his entourage upon whom he has to depend. When, in a campaign, the appointments secretary, the press secretary, the speech writers, and much of the office personnel are members of the Dewey faction, and when such an outsider as Paul Hoffman plays an important role, the question of who might formulate the principles had to arise.

All that Taft proposed to many people who tried to influence him was where specifically does Eisenhower stand on certain principles and on party organization. Senator Frank Carlson of Kansas and Arthur Summerfield, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, both devoted to Eisenhower and his victory, were the men who brought the candidate and the party leader together, not on a personal basis but in the realm of ideas and party organization.

It is novel in American politics that such a discussion should be based on a document; yet, it is a characteristic of Senator Taft that he should have put his ideas in writing, that it should have been available, I believe, during the first week of August or even earlier.

It is nonsense to say that Taft demanded that Eisenhower sign on the dotted line. His position was: This is where I stand. Taft told me during the convention in Chicago that he believed that the differences between General Eisenhower and himself were matters of degree, not of principle. I know that he respects General Eisenhower's concepts and recognizes his difficulties. There never was any question but that once they discussed ideas and party organization, they would find little to separate them.

What the Dewey element will now do is difficult to say. Dewey has an ace card, the enormous electoral vote of New York State. If he can deliver that, he is entitled to major political recognition. As matters stand today, New York is still in the doubtful column.

Politically, it is essential that Eisenhower carry the Middle West and California to offset a possible defeat in New York. If Taft carries the Middle West for Eisenhower, the General can be elected. In using the phrase, "If Taft carries," I do not reflect unfavorably on the General, but it was in this area of the country that Republican resistance was most felt.

The McCarthy victory in Wisconsin and Taft's return to actively have re-stimulated Republican Party activity.

Hollywood extravaganzas on Biblical themes are going to be bigger than ever. Abingdon-Cokesbury Press of New York and Nashville reports receipt of a rush order from a Beverly Hills bookshop for its giant new Interpreter's Bible (12 volumes; 10,000 pages; 50 pounds). At the bottom of the order in feminine handwriting was this note: "We are proud to say that this Bible was ordered by Cecil B. DeMille."

The Once Over

"None, if you can't see what you want when you go to this icebox it just ain't there. Why make an illuminating project out of a search for a can of beer?"

He then pointed to the front opening in the box and said, "Point Number Four. No compartments! Just a couple of corrugated zinc shelves. Point Number Five! No thermostat. No defrosting! Just reach in and take out the milk. If it's sour, you are out of ice!"

The idea took us back to boyhood. "Point Number Six," he went on in sheer ecstasy. "No motors! No automatic controls!"

"You mean we can keep our salami cold without help from the electric light company?" we gasped.

"That's what I mean," the man said. "Point Number Seven! Our Super tin pan for collecting the leakage!... You just slip it under the box to catch the drain water!"

"Ah memories of yesterday," sighed the wife. "Today it is almost impossible to find the kitchen and know the excitement of summoning all hands on deck with mops and bilge pumps!"

"Point Number Eight," the man went on. "No streamlining whatever!... Just a square box with ugly sharp corners and some crude hardware! Just a refrigerator into which you can fling everything hot or miss, stuffing newspapers around the ice to keep it from melting too fast. And with every model, we give a card with the words 'ICE' on it. You just hang it in the parlor window when you need ice."

(Here some trumpets blew, scantly clad maidens did a ballet around the icebox, an orchestra played haunting music and a husky guy with a rubber pad on his back danced on, carrying a huge cake of ice. It was the ice-man. He didn't look bad... In the dream, we mean. The good old wooden and zinc icebox days... may they never come again!)

Tretheway Elected Assistant Chief Of Stroudsburg Police

Robert Decker Appointed To Fill Vacancy

John B. Tretheway, 737 Bryant St., Stroudsburg, a member of the Stroudsburg police force since 1940, was elected assistant chief of police by council last night to fill a vacancy created by the recent death of Stanley J. Fetherman.

Council also elected Robert A. Decker, 120 Linden St., Stroudsburg, as a patrolman on the police force, filling a vacancy created by the advance of Tretheway to assistant chief.

Tretheway's election as assistant chief came on recommendation of the Police Civil Service Commission. He is a former member of the Pennsylvania State Police and served with the U.S. Coast Guard during World War Two.

Decker's election as patrolman will serve the customary six-month probationary period before becoming a permanent employee—was pursuant to results and recommendations of the Civil Service Commission.

A written-oral examination was held by the commission and results of these studies were reported to council last night.

Decker is a veteran of both Army and Navy service. He is 26 years old, five feet 11½ inches tall and weighs 158 pounds. He is expected to report for duty as soon as he can be properly outfitted with uniform, etc.

Walter Mader, who has been serving in the borough as special policeman, was given a permanent rating as special police officer because of his availability at all times and his record of past service.

Truck Hits Pole, Plug

A truck went through the construction barricade on W. Main St., Stroudsburg, at 5 a.m. yesterday and crashed into a fire hydrant and power pole.

The driver, George E. Adams, 28, Bethlehem RD2, was treated at the General Hospital and released, according to Stroudsburg officers John Tretheway and Richard Wolbert, who investigated.

Adams was driving his Bethlehem news agency truck west. Because of the heavy morning fog, he failed to see the barricade where a section of the concrete is being replaced. The left wheel went into the hole left after the concrete was chipped out.

The truck went out of control, veered to the right, hit the P & P and L pole first, then the hydrant. Injury was to Adams' left leg. The front end of the truck was damaged extensively, police said. There were no passengers in the vehicle.

Cpl. Edlund Receives Discharge

Cpl. Carl J. Edlund Jr., son of Mrs. Mary A. Edlund of 216 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, received his Army discharge Sept. 15, at Fort Monmouth, N. J. after 37½ months of service.

He was personal driver for Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton, commanding general of the New Jersey installation and was stationed here since September, 1951. After serving 11 months in Korea, Corporal Edlund was assigned as an instructor in the photographic division of the Signal School.

In civilian life, Corporal Edlund plans to continue his education under the GI Bill for veterans of the Korean conflict.

Landscaping Completed At Church

Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Booth of 3133 Connecticut Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C., announced last night through Rev. William F. Wunder, that the memorial landscaping in front of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Lackawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg, has been completed by LaBar's Rhododendron Nursery in memory of Mr. Booth's mother, Mrs. Sarah A. Kline Booth, who died April 17, 1952.

Mrs. Booth, known as "Sally" to her host of friends in the community, was a charter member of Grace Church. She was active in numerous civic and community affairs and was the one person largely instrumental in organizing the Monroe County General Hospital. The memorial landscaping consists of upright yews, dwarf yews, spreading media yews and hollyhock yews of varying heights. The beautiful front lawn of the edifice has been given warmth and dignity by the memorial planting. Due recognition of this substantial gift by Mr. and Mrs. Booth to Grace Church will be given Sunday at the 11 a.m. service of Harvest Home by Pastor Wunder.

"Old at 40, 50, 60?"
—Man, You're Crazy

Forget your age! Thousands are peppy at 40, 50, 60, 70, 80, 90, 100, and counting! They're using the new "Old" Tonic Tablets for pep, younger feeling, this very day. 50¢ introductory size 42¢. At all drug stores everywhere—in Stroudsburg, at Lee & Lewis.

How would you like to drive your car on a street "paved" with broadloom carpet? This may sound silly, but it dramatically illustrates the fact that A. C. Miller Furniture Store, Main & Fourth Sts., Stroudsburg, has sold enough broadloom carpet in the past year to cover a large percentage of Main St. from curb to curb! The scene above showing Frank Mooney explaining the quality and texture of a carpet to a prospective buyer is a familiar one at A. C. Miller's. The local store has one of the largest and most varied collections of broadloom in this locality. One sale last week involved enough broadloom to completely cover the entire street in front of the A. C. Miller store!—Adv.

Borough Crew To Work On Scott Street

Street forces of the borough of Stroudsburg expect to remove stumps of scores of trees now being cut down on Scott St. between Eighth and Ninth and probably install a series of catch basins to existing storm water sewers.

Edward C. Hess, borough engineer, told council the major drainage project must be delayed until next year due to the current program of work and inability of street forces to cope with the project any time this year.

By doing the major drainage installation with their own forces, the borough will be saving 25 per cent of the cost of a project which will run at least $10,000 or better.

Hess explained the major drainage pipe installation will be a difficult job because of a maze of service lines for both water and gas along the street and other pipe installations.

He said he has alerted the gas company to have a man on hand when stumps are removed. In case a gas service line is broken when stumps are pulled, the gas man can take immediate steps to plug the line until repairs are made.

Council authorized the purchase of a stone spreader for street work at a cost of about $260.

Brutzman Rites Held Yesterday

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. yesterday for George W. Brutzman, 530 Chestnut St., East Stroudsburg, at the Lutheran funeral home.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton, East Stroudsburg Methodist, conducted the services.

Interment was made in Prospect Cemetery, and bearers were Lafayette Strunk, Frank Hoke, Clinton Fish, John Walck, Earl L. Bush.

Milford. Two teen-age boys and a girl who wanted to "camp out" were seized by State police after they allegedly stole blankets and rifles near Dingmans Ferry, it was reported yesterday.

The boys, 16 and 17, are being held for hearings. The girl, 15, has been released in custody of her uncle, described by police here only as "an area resident."

All three of the youngsters were staying with the uncle on a visit from Staten Island, N.Y., police said.

The thefts were from a summer cottage and a permanent residence near Dingmans Ferry, but police declined to identify the owners involved.

Police said the thefts occurred Tuesday. The youngsters were seen by neighbors or residents and police notified. The three were picked up with the blankets and rifles in their possession at a point near Dingmans Ferry.

No charges had been filed last night, police said. However, the investigation by Pfc. Glenn James and Pfc. Joseph McCarthy is continuing, it was reported.

Here are the STRAIGHT SOLID FACTS that lead thousands to better truck buys!

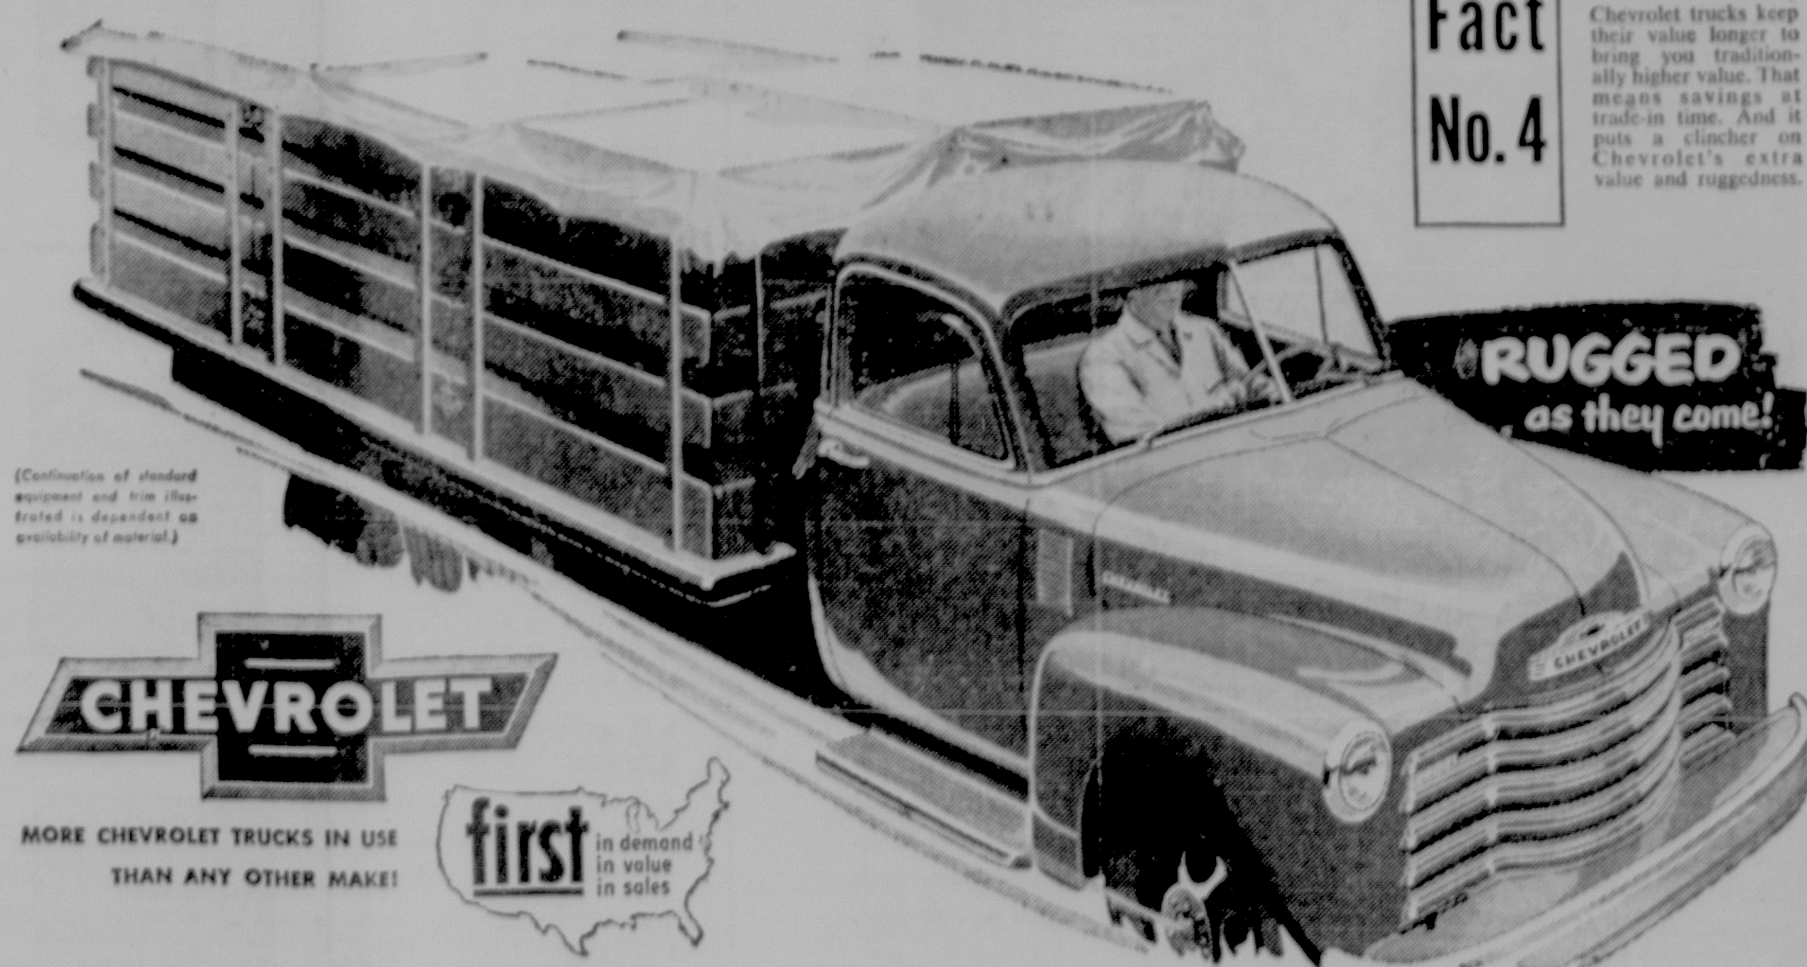

Veterans of the trucking business buy on cold, hard facts. They buy for good, solid, levelheaded reasons. And more and more of them buy Chevrolet trucks. As a matter of fact, they buy more Chevrolet trucks than any other make.

Here's why. Chevrolet trucks are factory-matched to your job. Tires, frame, axles, springs, engine, transmission, brakes. All are right on the job—and right for the job. All are matched to the job, to get work done fast and efficiently—at the lowest possible cost to you!

They cost less to buy, own, and operate. And Chevrolet's dependable valve-in-head engines hold fuel costs down, but deliver all the power you need when you need it.

Come in and let's talk it over. Let us show you how great these Chevrolet trucks really are.

(Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.)

MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

first in demand in volume in sales

Fact No. 1

Costs Less to Buy
Chevrolet trucks list for less than comparable models of other makes. As the world's largest manufacturer of trucks, Chevrolet can make important production economies that mean substantial savings to you!

Fact No. 2

Rock-bottom operation and upkeep
Hundreds of thousands of truck users have proved that Chevrolet costs the least of all to own and maintain. Valve-in-head economy saves on gas. 4-way engine lubrication keeps oil costs low.

Fact No. 3

On-the-job efficiency saves money
Proved features cut operating and maintenance costs. Valve-in-head economy. 4-way Lubrication reduces engine wear. Hypoid rear axles. And Flexi-Mounted cabs. Ball-Gear Steering. Synchro-Mesh Transmission.

Fact No. 4

Keeps its value longer
Chevrolet trucks keep their value longer to bring you traditionally higher value. That means savings at trade-in time. And it puts a clincher on Chevrolet's extra value and ruggedness.

Society Plans Beautification Of Cemetery

Steps to conserve and repair the old St. Matthews Church Cemetery on S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, are currently being taken by members of the Holy Name Society of the church.

Action to beautify the grounds was proposed at a recent Holy Name meeting and volunteers plan to advance their tasks in graduated steps during the next year.

One of the plans calls for building a concrete wall along S. Courtland St., a distance of about 50 feet. A metal fence will be installed on the concrete base to enhance the appearance, with a gateway scheduled to enter the cemetery.

The cemetery is on the original property acquired by the church. Since then two additional lands have been opened as cemeteries. One is adjacent to Prospect Cemetery, East Stroudsburg, and the latest, Gate of Heaven, is located at Laurelswood, on the property of LaBar's Rhododendron Nursery in Stroudsburg.

Rev. Harold Durkin, pastor, endorsed the repair program and made the first official contribution to the program. A fund entitled "Cemetery Restoration Fund" was

PSEA Maps Details Of Conference

Programming, housing and all other details associated with an assembly of the house of delegates of the Northeastern District, Pennsylvania State Education Association were completed here yesterday at a meeting arranged by John C. Litta, county superintendent of schools and general chairman of arrangements.

Walter Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools and publicity and public relations contact for the conference, said regional and local PSEA members met with various local officials to set up the program which opens in the auditorium of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College October 9 and runs through October 10.

House of delegates will represent PSEA groups in Northeastern Pennsylvania counties including Bradford, Columbia, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Monroe, Montour, Northumberland, Pike, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming.

House of delegates will meet for the first time at 8 p. m. October 9 in the college auditorium. There the meeting will be preceded by a dinner at the Penn-Stroud Hotel at 6 p. m.

Pike County teachers will attend the conference, in force, and will precede their participation by a dinner meeting at the Indian Queen Hotel.

There will be a general session of the delegates at 9:30 a. m. October 10. Delegates will have an opportunity to attend five sections meetings opening at 11 a. m. and again at 2 p. m. October 10.

Under discussion at these sectional meetings will be public relations, legislation, in-service training for teachers, retirement and bill of rights.

A parliamentarian was named for the house of delegates meeting yesterday. He will be Alfred W. Munson, principal of Stroudsburg High School.

Music will be provided by East Stroudsburg High School band and the Stroudsburg High School chorus.

In attendance at the planning conference here yesterday were H. Austin Snyder, president of the Northeastern District and superintendent of schools at Sayre; Miss Ruth Krapf, immediate past president and a teacher in schools of Hazleton.

Local educators attending in addition to Mr. Litta and Mr. Sebring were Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, president of State Teachers College, Ralph G. Burrows, principal of East Stroudsburg High; Earl Groner, superintendent of Stroudsburg schools; Harold Lee, Monroe County PSEA president; James Anthony, president Stroudsburg PSEA branch; Bernard Roan, Barrett Township, and Jacob Wacht-

Jollowsky Enrolls At College

Arthur Jollowsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Jollowsky, W. Main St., Stroudsburg, has started studies at Moravian College, Bethlehem.

Mr. Jollowsky will major in business administration. He graduated from Stroudsburg High School in 1952 and was president of the Senior Class. During his school attendance here, Jollowsky was active in all school activities.

Mr. Jollowsky is executive secretary of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce.

Ruins Checked After Reports Of New Fire

Stroudsburg firemen made two checks yesterday of the blackened ruins of the Park Market storage building on Ann St. which was destroyed by fire late Tuesday night.

Robert Helick, fire chief, ordered a crew to inspect the site in the morning after he received a report that flames were seen. Firemen said their examination revealed only the reflection of the sun on the burned frame building. Last night, another team of firemen went to the scene and were satisfied no more damage would be done.

No estimate of damage has been announced to date, but it is expected the loss will be heavy.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Dr. Jordan Describes Thrill Of Hearing Water Gap Given Scenic Priority Over 'Rock'

Dr. Claus G. Jordan, who returned this week with his family after a three-month tour of Europe, related some of his experiences at yesterday's meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Introduced by Dr. C. W. Dupue, the speaker touched on the economic conditions faced and the austerity peacefully accepted by the people of England.

The greatest thrill and surprise of the trip, Dr. Jordan said, occurred as the ship which was bringing the family home approached the Rock of Gibraltar. Standing on the deck admiring the beauty of the scene, Dr. Jordan said he overheard a woman back of him tell of people marveling over the beauty at Gibraltar, adding, "This is all very beautiful, but did you ever see Delaware Water Gap?" The woman, he said, hailed from the state of Maine.

Dr. Jordan spoke of the rehabilitation and building construction especially in Germany and Italy, declaring the natives failed to realize it was United States money through the Marshall plan which was making it possible.

He also spoke of the great number of U. S. naval vessels in the Mediterranean, stating there were 10,000 American sailors in Naples when his family visited there.

In Italy, he said, there was much rebuilding, but not much construction and it was cheaper to travel there than in most other countries visited. Food was pronounced plentiful and good in the public hotels.

The Bastille Day observance in Paris was described by the speaker with two separate parades, one composed of Communists who kept continuously singing a Communist song demanding release of one of their number from prison. The dance in the streets at night was pictured as most beautiful.

England was described as the poorest country visited. Poorest people due to economic conditions, passing through the greatest austerity, they didn't seem to mind, he said. Hotels were jammed, running out of food which could not be secured for picnics, evidence of shortage.

The greatest courtesy was extended to motorists in London he said, but gas was poor. He told of the visit to Buckingham palace, where they saw the princess on one occasion and later the queen as she left the palace, pictured as most beautiful in her white dress. Pictures were taken of Her Highness.

The visit to the castle of Wales where thousands of young people were seen in a pageant, and trips to Vienna, Holland and Belgium were mentioned.

Dr. Jordan described the terrific destruction in Germany, including the school he had attended in his boyhood. Much rebuilding was going on, though, at this time. The doctor met many of his relatives there.

The Bikini bathing suits worn in Vienna were described. The Follies in Paris were said to be wonderful, but the high priced cabarets not very good. Food was very expensive.

President Gilbert L. Smrz welcomed Dr. Jordan and Dr. Earl Willhite back to the club, also these visitors: Ernest Turzo, Bangor Kiwanian; Fred Walter, Endicott, N. Y., Rotarian with 20 years perfect attendance, also Frank Dreisbach and Richard Henning, Stroudsburg. Announcement was also made of the marriage of W. A. Weber yesterday morning.

Letters were read from Harold W. Leininger, who has transferred to Allentown after 13 years membership in the local club expressing his appreciation of many courtesies; also one from Mrs. Thomas J. Breitwieser stating her husband, a surgical patient in the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, was improving.

Howard L. Reiper was song leader with Numa J. Snyder at the piano.

R. O. Henning Assigned To New Store

Richard O. Henning, assistant manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store in Stroudsburg for two years and associated with the business about four years, has been named floor manager of a new, large suburban store of the company at Middleburg Heights, Cleveland, O. The store will not be opened at Cleveland until early October. Mr. Henning will complete his last day of service here Saturday and report to the completely modern suburban store Sept. 25.

A resident of 124 Sophie St., East Stroudsburg, Mr. Henning is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School. During the last war he served 18 months, 16 of which were in Japan.

After attending State Teachers College here, Mr. Henning joined the J. C. Penney Co. store in Stroudsburg.

Borough Buys Piece Of Land At Ninth And Scott Streets

Stroudsburg Borough has purchased a small piece of land at the intersection of Ninth and Scott Sts. in the borough, according to deeds recorded yesterday at the court house.

The land is the triangular spur between Scott and N. Ninth Sts. The borough plans to remove the spur to make it easier for traffic to turn right off Ninth onto Scott, and left off Scott onto Ninth.

Grantees were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Achterman, Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder, Philadelphia, transferred to E. C. Machin Inc., Allentown, a property in Barrett Township adjoining land of John W. Wagner on the Canadensis-Skytop road.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vernoy, Paola, Kan., sold to Charles E. Wilson, Canadensis, a property in Barrett Township comprising about half an acre, adjoining land of Carol Schleiker.

Two tracts in Chestnut Hill Township on the Effort-Brodheads road have been sold by Mr. and Mrs. Hans Ewe, that township, to Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dotter, Polk Township.

Mrs. Magdalene W. Bruen, Stroudsburg, has sold a residence in Stroudsburg on the north side of Thomas St., to Mr. and Mrs. John Blasko, Hamilton Township.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Warner, Tobyhanna Township, sold a small piece of land to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gangware, Tobyhanna Township.

Rain Aids Farmers

Harrisburg (AP)—Rainfall and high temperatures helped farmers in their field work in the past week, the State Agriculture Department said yesterday. In some places, however, dry weather held up preparations for fall seedings.

Farm Realty Taxes Up 5.4%

Washington, (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported yesterday that farmers are paying a record of 775 million dollars in farm real estate taxes this year, or 5.4 per cent more than last year.

This was said to be the seventh annual increase in farm realty taxes since the end of World War II. These taxes are levied by state and local governments.

The department said the increases reflect a need by these government agencies for more funds to meet mounting costs. Taxes levied on an acre basis in Pennsylvania amounted to $1.40.

Lancaster Cattle

Lancaster, (AP)—Cattle, pigs, calves and sheep were sold at the Lancaster County fair today. Cattle 1000 lb. and over sold at $11.50; 1000 lb. and under sold at $11.00; sheep 100 lb. and over sold at $11.00; sheep 100 lb. and under sold at $10.50.

Martha M. Mosier Is Bride Of Harry Richard Klingel

Miss Martha Mary Mosier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Mosier, of East Stroudsburg RD 1, became the bride of Harry Richard Klingel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Klingel, of 79 S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, Wednesday at 8 p. m., before the candlelit altar of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Lackawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg. The late Summer wedding was performed by candle light and the Rev. William E. Wunder, Grace Church pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The altar was graced with bouquets of white pom-poms and the chancel decorated with urns of white and pink gladioli. The family pews were reserved with white satin bows tied with chrysanthemums and the bridal party walked on an aisle carpet of white which reached from the parterre to altar.

Derek Mader, baritone, sang "For You Alone," by Gehl, and "Because," by G. D'Hardot, prior to the wedding, accompanied by Miss Leila Bunnell at the console. Mr. Mader also sang "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte, as the bride and bridegroom were kneeling before the altar on a white satin covered pillow.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father before a large congregation of friends and relatives, was attired in a white ivory satin wedding gown trimmed with two rows of lace down the nape and bodice ending in a sweeping train. Her satin neckline was scalloped and its lace formed the illusion neckline with a stand-up scalloped lace collar. Her lace sleeves ended in points over the wrists and her French illusion net finger-tip veil fell from a cluster of orange blossoms with scalloped trimmed edge. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white pom-poms and roses.

Mrs. Ethel Lockard, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor. She was attired in a light autumn green gown of net over tulle which had a tight fitted bodice and a sweetheart neckline. It was trimmed in white lace on matching green-net. She also wore muffs of net and picture frame hat with open crown made of lace. She carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow pom-poms and lavender gladioli.

Mrs. Dorothy Mosier, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Sharon Mosier, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. Each was attired in a petal pink gown of corresponding design as the matron-of-honor with pink lace muffs and picture hats. Each bridesmaid carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow pom-poms and pink gladioli.

Miss Virginia Simon, of Scotrun, a niece of the bridegroom, wore a white ivory satin gown trimmed in scalloped lace. The pretty little blonde, blue-eyed lass, served as flower girl and scattered rose petals in the bride's pathway. She also carried a bouquet of pink pom-poms and gold gladioli.

The bride's mother was attired in a medium blue crepe street length dress with Navy blue accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue-grey fall suit with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Edward R. Klingel, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Otto Oltmans, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Arthur L. Klingel, brother of the bridegroom, served as ushers. Thomas I. Kintner, attired in a crimson cassock and white surplice, was acolyte.

After the wedding prayers Pastor Wunder administered the sacrament of Holy Communion to the bride and bridegroom as they knelt before the altar.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was held at the bride's home with more than 100 guests attending the festive nuptial occasion. A three-tiered wedding cake featured the elaborate refreshments at the buffet luncheon.

Pocono Grange Penny Supper, Apron Social

Tannersville—Pocono Grange, 1415, will hold a penny supper at the fire house Saturday night, Sept. 20. Volunteer workers and donations are needed, the committee says. Those willing to assist are asked to contact Mrs. Elsie Dailey before 3 p. m.

There will also be an apron social in connection with the supper. Grange members are asked to donate at least one apron for the sale. Members are asked to report at the fire house Friday night to assist in getting ready for the supper.

The principal topic discussed at the recent meeting of the grange was preparation for the supper. Many members unable to attend during the recent season were present and welcomed including the Ben Henrys and Mrs. Salie Henry.

Various projects on which the members are working and the Attention convention were also matters for consideration.

Wm. A. Weber Takes Bride At St. John's Church

A quiet wedding was performed on Wednesday at 11 a. m. in St. John's Lutheran church when William A. Weber and Mrs. Lila Zeitlmeyer were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. P. N. Wohlson. The single ring ceremony was used and the couple was unattended.

They left immediately after the ceremony for a brief wedding trip and, upon their return, will be at home at 807 Scott St.

The bridegroom is the well known retired baker, who for many years operated the Blue Ribbon bakery in Stroudsburg and has been active in civic affairs. The bride is well known in Stroudsburg and has been a resident for many years in this community.

Sub. Campaign Is Successful

The annual magazine subscription campaign sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliaries of Monroe County was officially closed on Sept. 13. Subscribers may expect to receive their first copies on new subscriptions in about 10 weeks from the date they placed their order. Renewal subscriptions will start as old subscriptions expire.

During the past six years the commissions earned through this plan have enabled the organization to purchase and make available to the residents of this area, sick room equipment free of charge.

The home was decorated in white streamers and bells for the reception. Following the reception the newlyweds left for a honeymoon of unannounced destination. For her going-away attire the bride wore an aqua-blue gabardine suit with navy-blue accessories and a white rosebud corsage.

Both attended the East Stroudsburg High School. The bride is employed at the Willow Dell, Mink Sink Hills, and the bridegroom at the International Boiler Works in East Stroudsburg. Upon their return from honeymooning the newlyweds will be at home to their many friends in their newly furnished home in Hartonsville.

Mrs. Leitner Speaks To Bushkill Club

Bushkill—The Bushkill Garden Club met at the fire house on Thursday, Sept. 11, with 14 members present for the regular business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. B. H. Bensley. Mrs. Bensley reported that Mrs. Natalie Bowen, of New York City, was unable to attend.

Mrs. M. John Leitner presented each member with an application to be executed for the Walter Place Flood Donation Day to be held at the Elks Home in East Stroudsburg. This memorial to Walter Place is of special interest to residents of this area, since he was a nephew of former resident, Mrs. Harry Potter, and a cousin of Mrs. Frank Severy of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Bensley introduced the speaker, Mrs. M. John Leitner whose topic was "Flower Arrangements in Everyday Living." Mrs. Leitner presented the following suggestions in arranging bouquets, first to consider the containers on hand using any interesting household container, second the use of a permanent base arrangement and also the use of artificial aids such as wire, holders, etc.

Among the arrangements illustrated by the speaker were Boutonnieres made of small bunches of flowers set in a napkin or paper doily tied with ribbon; a candy bowl with short stemmed blooms for use on a coffee table; for the kitchen, a bread basket holding a glass container of native herbs, parsley, dill and using for color nasturtiums and beet leaves; for an outside door decoration a creel filled with basic greens and multicolor blossoms; a jelly bowl filled with geranium buds; a permanent arrangement on a steak board using a root and greens; these were offered to the group with the invitation that everyone can have flower arrangements in their home by using their initiative and the materials available.

The nominating committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. Charles Beck, Mrs. E. B. Bartram and Mrs. Charles Fisher.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Gierend with the guest speaker to be Dr. Edna Rosenkrantz. Mrs. E. B. Bartram and Mrs. Robert Gierend will serve as hostesses.

Following the meeting refreshments were served to the group by Mrs. Argus Miller and Mrs. Charles Beck.

Around The Stroudsburgs

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. P. N. Wohlson have returned following a vacation of two weeks spent in Atlantic City, N. J., and Inn at Buck Hill Falls.

Miss Joan Papson leaves today for Forty Fort where she will make her home with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Rocco English. Miss Papson will enroll at Misericordia College, Wilkes-Barre.

Mrs. W. H. Morrow, of Philadelphia, has been visiting the Frank Mooney family for about a week.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

I wonder if men realize just how much of a woman's time is taken up by shopping, and not necessarily for herself either.

Food, of course, is an ever present problem but it's something that has to be bought no matter how busy you are. It's the odds and ends that sort of pile up on you—things you need but don't have to have right this minute.

A double socket for the lighting, for instance, and darned cotton, and a new mop for the mop-handle, and a knob for the stew pan lid, and a new ribbon for the desk, and a new ribbon for the typewriter.

All of which fits into a little tiny package which is pretty hard to explain why it should take you all afternoon to buy and all evening to get rested up from shopping for.

Of course, what they don't realize is that in every store there's somebody you haven't seen all summer, and on every street corner there's somebody you have to stop and ask about something. Or maybe they do realize—just wondering how long it takes them to run down to the bank and make a deposit these sunny afternoons.

Com. Concert Campaigns Nearing Close

The Pocono Community Concert campaign is midway in its membership solicitation as the drive for membership opened on Monday and will close Saturday, Sept. 20, at 5 p. m.

An outstanding season is anticipated. The Rochester Civic Orchestra, whose personnel is made up of 45 members of the Rochester Symphony Orchestra, has been booked for March 27, 1953, and a reservation has been made for the Jaroff Male Chorus and Dancers whose fabulous precision, infectious spirit, and varied program has endeared them to a million people. They are available for Sept. 29, 1952. If at the close of the campaign the budget will permit.

Members are urged to pick up their subscriptions as soon as possible. Any one interested, not having been contacted by a worker, call phone number 3856, or stop in at headquarters in the Penn-Stroud lobby at their earliest convenience.

Many Exhibits In Church Flower Show

Portland—There were 370 exhibits in the 13th annual flower show sponsored by the Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church of Stone Church this year, with a special feature arranged by the flower show committee to include a house and lawn display.

Mrs. Paul Hartzell, Mrs. Floyd Ott Jr., Mrs. Steven Kish, Mrs. Clarence Hartzell, Mrs. Clark Nicholas and Mrs. William Hughes composed the committee. A cafeteria supper was served by the women of the church.

Mrs. J. O. Roegle's spike of gladioli was adjudged the outstanding specimen of the show, and other special awards were presented to Mrs. Vernon Hester, Mrs. J. P. Trays, Mrs. Clyde Stevens, Mrs. Frank Bartow, Mrs. Floyd Ott Jr., Mrs. Karl Ott, Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Roegle, Miss Kathryn Atchley, Miss Marjorie Trays, Mrs. Clark Nicholas, Mrs. Lester Jacobs, Mrs. Paul Hartzell, Harry Ott and Wayne Boller.

Mrs. R. B. Smith Class Send Cards To Ill Members

Mrs. Robert B. Smith's class of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church school met in the social rooms Tuesday night when Mrs. Smith reviewed the lesson based on the 23rd Psalm.

Pastor Wohlson was heard in brief remarks and Mrs. Elsie Schmidt read a poem, "The Minister's Vacation," and also the fun minutes. Mrs. Robert Smith read a poem written by Mrs. Ruth Marshall years ago.

Cards to be sent to members who were ill were signed by the members present. Mrs. Margaret Freeman was the winner of the prize awarded for the game played and the door prize went to Mrs. William Post.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses who were: Mrs. Dolly Erdman, Mrs. Vinnie Hay, Mrs. Cassilia Farry, Mrs. Mary Storey, Mrs. Emma Schroeder and Mrs. Minnie Arndt.

Baby Born To Former Resident In Italy

Delaware Water Gap—Word has been received of the birth of the fourth child to Mrs. Edith Keller Holden, a former resident of Monroe County in Italy where her husband is stationed with the US Army.

Mrs. Holden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Keller, left this country with their three small children to join him in Florence, Italy. About a month after her arrival, the fourth child was born. She writes that she has to have an Italian maid to do her shopping, since she speaks no Italian. The two older boys in Army Zone school, however, are learning it.

PM Club Welcomes Former Member At Party

Switzwater—The PM Women's Club of Switzwater recently met at the home of Mrs. John Lindstedt, with the gathering especially brightened by the presence of a former member, Mrs. William Davis, who now resides in California.

The evening was spent with the discussion of interesting events of the summer. Mrs. David Neison will be hostess to the group at her home on September 25, when all members are urged to attend as fall activities will be under discussion.

The club regrets that an active member, Mrs. Paul Fuller has moved to Lemoyne, Pa., and a best wishes card was sent to the family in their new venture.

Mrs. Lindstedt served refreshments to her guests: Mrs. Collins, of Stroudsburg; Mrs. Charles Hackenberg, Mrs. Carl Hamblin, Mrs. Willard Tyreman, Mrs. William McCoy, Miss Audrey Hamblin, Mrs. Willard Webster, Mrs. David Neison, Mrs. William Davis and Mrs. John Hamblin.

Pike County Rep. Women Plan Rally

Millford—The Pike County Council of Republican Women held its first meeting of the season at 8 p. m. on Monday, Sept. 15, in the Courthouse, this place.

J. Russell Eschback, chairman of the Pike County Republican committee, spoke on "My Impressions of Dwight D. Eisenhower." Mr. Eschback particularly stressed Gen. Eisenhower's cooperative nature and his adherence to the "teamwork" philosophy as opposed to arbitrary leadership.

Mrs. Marion Day, a new recruit worker in the Republican party, then spoke to the ladies on the proven principles for which the Republican party stands, and the need for Republicans everywhere to be sure these principles are thoroughly displayed to all voters.

The foremost item in the business meeting was the planning of a giant rally and dinner to be sponsored by the Women's Council with the full support of the County Republican committee. The dinner and rally will be held on Saturday night, Oct. 25, at the Tom Quick Inn in Millford. Several prominent Republican leaders will speak. All citizens of Pike Co. and nearby areas interested in the party and what the leaders have to say are urged to attend.

Firemen's Aux. To Sponsor Party

Engagement Of Alice M. LaBar

Mrs. Albert Neipert, of Bridge St. Pokons Park, announces the engagement of her daughter, Alice M. LaBar, to Emmet George, of Chipperfield Dr. No date has been set for the wedding.

The banana is an herb, the largest growing in the world.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

"What's new today?" I asked Elsie Miller as she straightened stock in our stationery department. "Just Alma," was the glib reply, "and we hope she stays awhile."

Many of our customers who remember the pleasant Mrs. Sutton, formerly of lingerie, will agree... Florence Predmore is delighted with the new shipment of Craft Master washable paint sets. These include a palette, an extensive variety of paints and three cloth pictures with color suggestions, all for $2.49. If there's art in your heart, and a yearning for learning, these are not to be given the brush-off... Maybe teacher rates an apple, but I'll take apple pie—particularly if it's made for our employees' cafeteria by Anna Bonser, and served with a wedge of store cheese!... Could I sell you an aggskaran? If you don't know what I'm talking about, it's mutual I'm sure. Nevertheless, from Sweden comes the Pullan, an egg slicer of superb construction, selling for $1.98. A Pullan pulls no punches with even the most hard-boiled egg. It's a real cut up that goes so far as to drop the pieces right onto a platter. Would you like to take some of our Stockholm?... Those of you who collect rock books will be interested in several newcomers of pocket size. These include "The Chef's Tour" by Ruth and Richard Rosen at $1.50, and at $1.25, "The Terrace Chef", dealing with barbecues, "The Epicurean Guide" and "The Big Spread." Until now, I thought "the big spread" was something that happened to you after too many "chef's tours"...

By the way, have you met Suzie Flipper? Suzie is a spatula of stainless steel with a neat black handle. A novel finger-control lever causes the blade to revolve, giving a toss to pancakes, corn fritters, and everything else of turn-about nature. Bet you'd never have a flap with a Flipper!... Also in housewares is the Tap-Ice. This tiny, shallow bowl of metal with its long steel handle, will crack ice right in the palm of your hand.

The Tap-Ice also mixes, muddles and measures. Would you do that much for $1?... If you walk past notions and wonder about the oddly shaped red plastic gadget on the back counter, you are not alone. It could, you will reason, be a stretcher or pliers—if it would open. Baffled, you'll finally ask, and be told that it's a scissor sharpener. You'll also learn that you were not the only one to acquire and that'll be a relief... Saw Bill Wyckoff in the store yesterday, congratulating Fran Meredith on the splendid reports of our Pen Argyl show. The finest compliment I can give our display department is that they're a swell bunch of "show-offs," and lots of fun to work with... Now for a sally through the alley to peak at the Farm Show. It opens today, you know, "with a moo here and a moo there"—to say nothing of preserves, blue ribbons, frankfurters, colics, and PEOPLE. Now where did I file that haystack?

Barrett Twp. GOP Women Hold Election

Barrett The September meeting of the Barrett Township Council of Republican Women was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Sue C. Price, September 10. There were about 35 members present and a number of business matters were transacted.

The request from State headquarters for funds for the purchase of a new building in Harrisburg was voted upon. It was decided to contribute $100 toward this "Project of the Presidents." Five new members joined the council. Plans were discussed to contact unregistered voters in the community before Saturday, September 13, and plans were proposed to get the voters to the polls on November 4.

The president gave a report on "Eisenhower Day" which she witnessed in Philadelphia, describing the parade of cars escorting General Eisenhower down Chestnut St. from 30th St. Station to Independence Hall and the vast, enthusiastic crowds every where, especially at Convention Hall in the evening when thousands were turned away attempting to hear his speech setting forth his nine-point program for peace.

Mrs. Sara Swaine was appointed chairman to conduct the election of officers for the ensuing year which resulted in the unanimous election of the following slate presented by the nominating committee: President, Mrs. Sue C. Price; vice president, Mrs. Graham Andue; recording secretary, Mrs. Edith Wilson, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edith Thomas; treasurer, Mrs. Marge Force.

The president announced that the guest speakers for the October

Woman Devises New Mouse Trap

Richmond, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Rodney Harman saw a mouse while visiting in a neighbor's home Monday. She propped up the suction cup on a plumber's plunger, put some cheese under it and waited.

The mouse co-operated. It went for the cheese, tripped the prop, trapped itself and was plunged to death.

8 meeting would be Rep. John Shotwell of Effort and Capt. John Craig of Bethlehem, candidates, respectively, for the House of Representatives at Harrisburg and Congress in Washington. All members and their husbands were urged to attend.

Following the adjournment of the business meeting, a social hour was enjoyed.

The hostesses were: Mrs. Sybil Michener, Mrs. Raymond Price, Mrs. Naomi Riese, Mrs. Deborah Brush and Mrs. Mabel Anderson.

Case's Hardware Stocking Shelves For Hunting Season

The folks at Edward Case's Hardware are once more busy with ordering and stocking shelves with the shells, gun oils, etc., that so many of the hunters seem to think about around this time of year. With all the sport magazines and their covers depicting hunting scenes, it's little wonder that this is true.

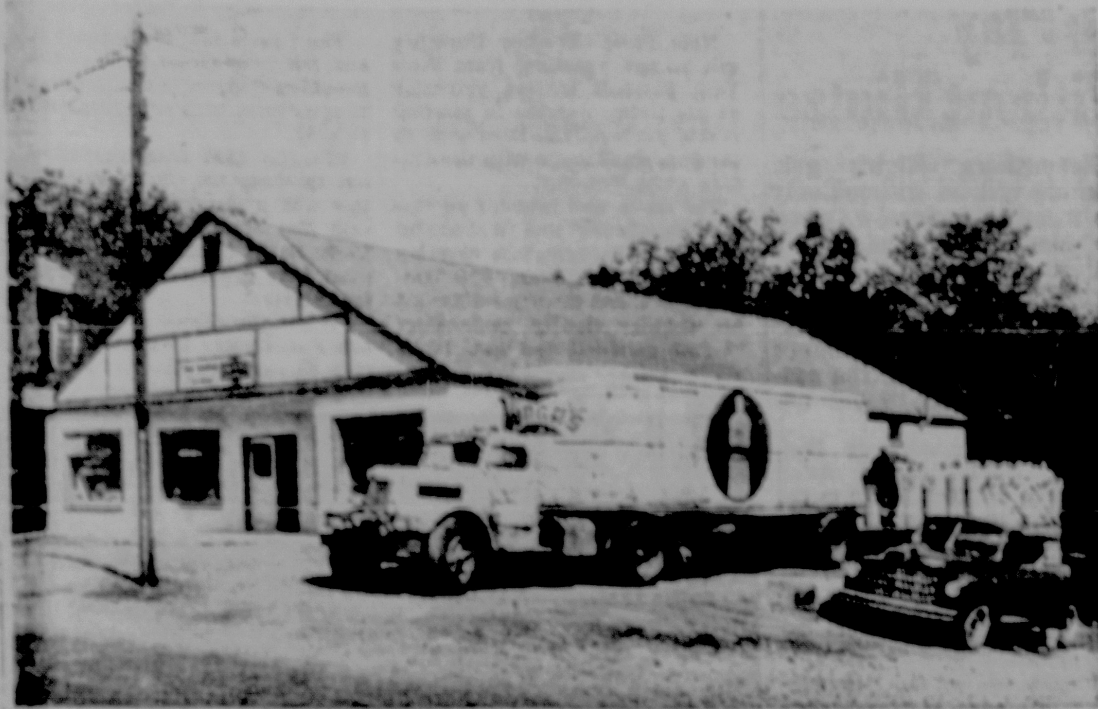

As usual, Case's Hardware is again handling the hunting licenses and can give all the information on applying for doe licenses and of course the bow and arrow licenses. A new line of the famous Wood-rich wooden products for hunting and casual wear are also in stock. Among them are many new models for more freedom of action and many new colors and patterns. Of course these lines are just a couple of the many lines of merchandise to be found here. Mr. Case has been in business life in the Barrett area since 1926 and is well known to the local residents as well as to many folks from out of the area who hunt, fish and vacation here.

To many, Case's Hardware is the organization which supplies them with Sungas, the bottled gas they use to cook with, to others, the place they get their fishing supplies, and still others, it's headquarters for the various types of Pittsburgh Paint Products they use each year.

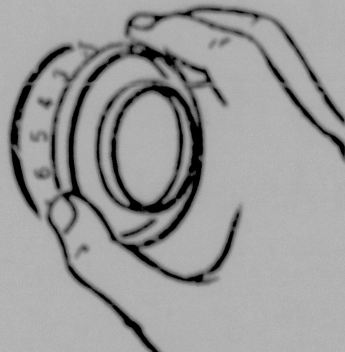

In the Spring, their garden supply department rates high with the community.

Of course, with the coming of the Fall season, folks are getting ready to move back indoors and many are painting up inside, checking the storm windows, and caulking around some openings. Whatever the need of the folks around here, from nails to stoves, to light bulbs, Case's are ready to serve. "If we don't have it, we can get it." That's the courteous slogan of Edward Case and the rest of the folks at Case's.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Danny Eppley, manager of the Bushkill entry in the Pocono Mountains League, pointed out last night that the battle over Ray Steele's eligibility for the post-season playoffs has swung in his club's favor after revealing that a letter was in the mail from Arthur Elders, General Manager of the Philadelphia A's, pointing out that Steele won't be a professional until 1953. The letter, according to reports, will also point out that the former East Stroudsburg High star hasn't received any bonus to date and won't receive any until after January 1, 1953.

The very likeable Steele was ruled ineligible by Clinton Getz, president of the Pocono Mountains League, at Monday's meeting of the circuit at Bartonsville Hotel, after the league had originally given the lanky right-hander the green light to play. However, the circuit gave Eppley the remainder of the week to prove that Steele was eligible and the hard-hitting first sacker has been hard at work ever since in an attempt to have his case reconsidered on the firing line against Tannersville, at Bushkill, on Sunday.

This problem of Steele's eligibility arose recently when the resident of Pike County signed on the dotted line of a 1953 contract that will be assigned to the Ottawa club of the International League next spring, with a bonus involved. Since Steele spent a week working out with the American League club, his name has been the center of many pro and con discussions held in all corners of Monroe County and surrounding territory. Ray, who is now a student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, will learn his fate sometime before Sunday's game, when John Wernett, league secretary, will make the final decision on the subject, in the absence of Getz, who is vacationing in Canada.

Mike Rubish, head golf pro at Glen Brook Country Club, has called on his energetic club members to take part in a Crab Grass Party on Friday, at 4 p.m. The popular pro believes that if each of the club members gives one or two hours of his time to picking crab grass that the pesky enemy of the greens will be licked next year. Chemicals, according to Rubish, won't do the trick. It has also been learned by this column that Mrs. Rubish and Mrs. Bill Hask have already picked a couple of bushels of the crab grass and are way ahead of the remainder of the field.

Rubish, who still sticks to the Yankees, although a winter resident of North Carolina also announced yesterday that the Glen Brook caddies will be guests at a free picnic on Monday. However, each of the caddies are asked to report to the Glen Brook pro no later than 4 p.m. on Friday. The Stroudsburg Speedway will feature a Demolition Race as an added attraction to the regular stock car program on Sunday. A preview of the Sunday, September 28, big car races will also be held this weekend.

Harry Schaeffer, former pitcher with the Stroudsburg Poconos and a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, has been recalled from Okla. by the Pacific Coast League, by the New York Yankees, but probably won't report to the Bronx Bombers until next Spring. The lanky southpaw hurler had two trials with the Yankee Stadium tenants this season. John "Bubba" Phillips, who held down right field for the Poconos for a portion of the 1948 North Atlantic League campaign, has been recalled by the Detroit Tigers from Buffalo, of the International League. However, Phillips declined to report to the American League club and rather returned to Mississippi Southern College, where he is a senior.

The Eastern Red Sox last year reportedly offered the Portsmouth club, in the class "B" Piedmont League, $5,000 for Jim Barnhardt, a right-handed pitcher, who received his start in professional ball with Bangor, of the North Atlantic League. Jim, who also attended ESSTC for a year, won 17 games during the 1951 season, including a no-hitter and eight shutouts. The Portsmouth club tried to sell Barnhardt to Washington for $20,000, but the Eastern resident was returned after a short look in Spring training.

Ray Steele's signing with the A's made this week's issue of The Sporting News, Stan Palsy and Wallie Habel, outfielder and shortstop respectively with Carbondale, during the 1950 North Atlantic League campaign, played important roles in Terre Haute victories over Waterloo in this year's Three-I League playoffs. Palsy tripled in the sixth inning to drive home two runs in the 5-1 victory that eliminated Waterloo from the post-season grid. Habel led the Terre Haute attack with three singles in the second contest.

Barnhardt, mentioned above, won two mound decisions over Lynchburg in the post-season Piedmont League playoffs, both of the 4-0 nature. Jim gave up three hits in one game and six in the other.

Bangor High Loses Ace Back For Stroudsburg Contest

Mountaineers To Play Without Hintze

Stroudsburg High's grid machine will be without only one member tomorrow, when the Mountaineers stack up against a powerful Bangor High eleven, at Gordon Giffels field. The contest, expected to be played before the largest crowd of the season, is scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m.

The absent gragger is Dick "Pickles" Hintze, second string center, who has been forced to the sidelines for 10 days, on the advice of his doctor. Elmer Strong will take over the number two center duties in place of Hintze, who will be greatly missed during the course of the game, it was announced last night by Coach Jerry Stulgaitis.

Stulgaitis worked the Mountaineers through a two-hour scrimmage in the rain on Monday, through another scrimmage session on Tuesday and went through punting and place kicking drills yesterday, as the team failed to get any sort of workout in these departments last Friday against Lehigh.

The Mountaineers also went through defensive drills yesterday and will hold a light workout in game uniforms today.

Stroudsburg will be outfitted entirely in maroon for tomorrow's clash with Bangor.

The Stroudsburg coaching staff, over movies of the Lehigh game yesterday, looking for flaws in the makeup of the Mountaineers. Tickets are now on sale for tomorrow's contest at DeVivo's Shoe Repair, at 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for students.

Fans of the local area are asked to purchase their tickets early and to use the gate located just over the Stroudsburg Playground bridge.

Local Track Lists Program

A special racing program is listed for the Stroudsburg Speedway this Sunday, it was announced last night by John Munday, track manager. The program will consist of a three-in-one bargain, that will feature three specialties wrapped into one afternoon of racing.

The usual stock car racing schedule has been lined up, with the first qualifying heat getting underway at 2:30 p.m. and the time trials at 3 p.m.

Added Events
However, in addition to the regular grid, the local track located off Route 209, near the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg airport, will feature a Demolition Race, in which eight or 10 cars will race with the intent purpose of wrecking the opposition or forcing it off the track during the course of the grid.

The lone survivor will be declared the winner.
In addition to the two events already announced, Munday made it known that a special preview of the big car races to be held at the local half-mile oval, on Sunday, September 28, will also be held this week.

From three to six of the big racers to appear on the track next week will go through the paces this Sunday.
The feature event of the regular stock car racing program is carded for 30 laps.

Lady Luck Frowns On Favorites

Delaware, O., (AP)—If one of the three favorites win today's $60,463.35 "Little Brown Jug," he'll have to do it the hard way.
The luck of the draw for post positions yesterday didn't help any of the top trio for the three-year-old pacing classic at the fairgrounds half-mile track.

Picks
Meadow Rice, Adio Abe and Thunderclap are tipped to fight it out for the big end of the purse, but Meadow Rice and Adio Abe drew into the second tier of starters for the opening heat.

Four Matches Listed

Four matches are listed for the Church League of Monroe County today at 9 p.m., on the Pocono Bowling Center alleys.

Alleys one and two—E.S. Methodists #1 vs. Zion Reformed.

Alleys three and four—First Presbyterian vs. St. Mark's Lutheran.

Alleys five and six—Stroudsburg Methodist #2 vs. St. John's Lutheran.

Alleys seven and eight—E. S. Methodists #2 vs. Stroudsburg Methodists #1.

Giants Keep Faint Pennant Hopes Alive, 2-0

New York, (AP)—The persistent New York Giants fought their way back to within three games of pace-setting Brooklyn yesterday as big Jim Hearn pitched a five-hitter to shut out the Chicago Cubs 2-0.

Hearn hurled his best game of the season as he doled out five hits struck out four and walked

Writers Roast Durocher For Pitching Selection

New York, (P)—Leo Durocher got a hot roasting from New York baseball writers yesterday as his losing gamble in starting rookie pitcher Jack Harshman in the important game with the Chicago Cubs Tuesday.

The move was branded an "inexcusable blunder" and "a shameful giveaway" by reporters covering the New York Giants. The tempestuous Giant manager defended his strategy stoutly, contending: "I just gambled and lost, that's all."

The Giants lost the game, 3-0, and fell four games back of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League race, with only 10 games to play.

"To the 7,637 fans who came out to cheer the Giants on, this was a shameful giveaway," said Jim McCulley of the New York Daily News. "And so it must have appeared to Leo's gallant players."

"When the giants heard Durocher was going to start Harshman there were plenty of raised eyebrows."

Ken Smith of the Daily Mirror reported the fans were "dumbfounded" when Durocher picked Harshman, a former first baseman just recalled from Minneapolis, over regulars Jim Hearn and Dave Kesle.

"The Giants, visibly let down by the inexcusable blunder of their manager in gambling with a youngster at this stage of the campaign, played a spiritless game."

Herald Tribune wrote that the Giant manager "apparently conceded the 1952 race" when he chose the untired left-hander.

"The folly of the manager's choice was obvious from the very beginning," Sinclair wrote.

Joe King of the World-Telegram and Sun had this to say of the incident:

"Certainly Horace Stoneham and all the other members of the Giant family have reason to wonder why Leo went with an untested pitcher. Jim Hearn was ready to work and so were Dave Kesle and several others.

"It could be that the final answer will be that Durocher, not Charley Dressen, was the fellow who tried to be Mr. Big as far as winning the championship is concerned."

James Dawson of the Times said the selection of Harshman was as "speculative as it was surprising" and added:

"A fan in the upper deck back of third yelled so that all could hear: 'Are you giving up, Leo?'"

Indians Gain Verdict Over Senators To Remain In Race

Cleveland, (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, refusing to be counted out of the pennant race, backed Bob Lemon with nine hits yesterday for his 20th victory, a 6 to 1 triumph over the Washington Senators.

A crowd of 5,815 saw Lemon become the Indians' third 20-game winner, following statmates Early Wynn and Mike Garcia.

Lemon was engaged in a 1-1 deadlock with Walt Masterson until the sixth inning, when the Indians bagged three runs on two walks and two hits. They added two more in the eighth and finished their season affairs with the Nats with a 12-10 edge.

Home Run
Bob Avila gave the tribe a 1-0 lead in the first inning with his sixth homer of the season. Doubles by Jackie Jensen and Mickey Vernon tied the score in the fourth.

Luke Easter and Al Rosen drew walks in the sixth, then Harry Simpson's single chased Easter across. Rosen scored on Jim Hegan's long fly and Simpson scored on a long double by George Strickland.

Walcott's Pilot Sets Deadline

Atlantic City, N. J. (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott's manager said yesterday he will give "Rocky" Marciano's manager until light weight in time Tuesday to sign a new contract for a return bout "or the fight will be off."

"I'm not kidding," said Felix Boechchio, Walcott's manager. "I want just a pure contract for the return at 30 per cent in case I accidentally lose."

Reference
The "F", naturally referred to Walcott, the 38-year-old heavy-weight champion, who is scheduled to defend his crown against Marciano at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium Tuesday night. The weigh-in is held at noon the day of the fight.

The dapper manager said the return contract he had signed with the International Boxing Club "is too technical. It's got five sheets and it's got everything in it—radio, television, theater-television, theaters and what not. I want it pure—just to call for 30 per cent."

Commercial 'A' Ready
Commercial "A" League keggers clash at Harmon's Recreation today, at 7 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Bartonsville Hotel vs. Bill Altiers.

Pocono Lions Honor Little League Squad

Pocono Summit—A total of 50 people attended last night's dinner meeting of the Pocono Lions club, at which members of the Pocono Mountains Little League, were honored. The affair was held here at Johnnie's Inn, with Charley James, Pocono Manor, acting as toastmaster. James is second vice president of the organization.

Each boy on the team was presented with a scout knife as a memento of his playing in the Little League during the past campaign.

World Series

The youngsters also enjoyed the 1950 World Series film, featuring the Philadelphia Phillies and New York Yankees, loaned to the Lions for this special occasion by the Phillies. The movies were shown by Bob Youngken, club member.

Several sons of club members also attended the meeting in celebration of Father and Son Night.

Sid Effross, deputy district governor from Portland, Claude Miller, zone chairman from Matushima, and Barrett Lions clubs were guests at last night's meeting.

Members of the team presented Carl Majer, team coach from Pocono Pine, with a pencil and book-set, as a token of appreciation for his work with them during the past season.

The modern contingent will be led by the likes of Sam Sneed, who set a tournament record in winning the Eastern Open at Baltimore Sunday, and Julius Boros, the National Open champion.

Link
A link between the past and the present will be supplied by Byron Nelson, in retirement since 1946, who has entered the 72-hole, $15,000 tournament sponsored by the Washington Post.

The tribute to the past will come Saturday night when the Professional Golfers Association will honor the 10 greatest pros and 10 greatest amateurs of all time.

Tom Fool Wins At Belmont
New York, (AP)—The Greentree Stable's Tom Fool, 1951 two-year-old champion, tossed a roadblock into the three-year-old championship ambitions of Calumet Farm's Mark-Ye-Well by romping to a seven length victory in the $24,350 Jerome Handicap at Belmont Park yesterday.

Third
Mark-Ye-Well never even got second money, losing by a neck to the Saxon Stable's Marcador a 52 to one shot.

Mark-Ye-Well was sent off the favorite, at $1.15 to $1. Tom Fool, as second choice, returned $7.60, $4.60 and $2.80 for $2. Marcador was $30.30 and $7.10 to place and Mark-Ye-Well, $2.40 to show.

The time for the mile was a fair 1:37, compared with 1:36 4-5 by Capot in 1949.

Schoch Among Top Hurlers In Association

Portside Sam Curtis, ace of the Gouldsboro mound staff, won seven games and lost but one in ten appearances, to annex the 1952 pitching honors in the Pocono Mountains Association, the season's records released yesterday disclose. "Sad Sam," as the boys in the area are wont to call him, got off to a late start in league competition and that because he finished out the collegiate season at Penn State, where he was a member of the pitching corps. On a per game average, he was the stingiest toaser in the loop as regards to bases on balls, giving up three plus per contest.

The Daleville Boosters' one-man mound staff, Bob Haines, was but a whisker behind Curtis with a 12-2 record. Haines, who more than anyone else was responsible for his club achieving the circuit championship, was the league's real workhorse and strikeout king. Not only did he fan the most, 125, but likewise had the best average, nine.

Newcomer
Al Schoch, a newcomer to mountain circles, equalled Haines' work, but on a 50 per cent basis having won six and lost but one, that in the game to Daleville, which decided the pennant.

Billy "Lefty" Herring, Newfoundland, son and namesake of a major leaguer of three decades ago, turned in a creditable 4-3 rating.

Outstanding game of the year was turned in by Moscow's Johnny Taylor, one-hitter, that a blooper, against Maple Lake.

The records of these pitchers, with at least one decision, were compiled by league president Bill Prokop.

Third
Mark-Ye-Well never even got second money, losing by a neck to the Saxon Stable's Marcador a 52 to one shot.

Mark-Ye-Well was sent off the favorite, at $1.15 to $1. Tom Fool, as second choice, returned $7.60, $4.60 and $2.80 for $2. Marcador was $30.30 and $7.10 to place and Mark-Ye-Well, $2.40 to show.

The time for the mile was a fair 1:37, compared with 1:36 4-5 by Capot in 1949.

Miller Suffers Broken Ankle In Scrimmage

Bangor — Bangor High's football fortunes received a rude jolt here yesterday, when X-rays revealed that Rodney Miller, ace back in the maroon and white lineup, had suffered a badly fractured right ankle that will force the fast moving left halfback to the sidelines for at least eight weeks.

Miller suffered the injury in Monday's scrimmage and findings of the X-rays were made public yesterday.

The injured gragger is a stellar performer for the Slayers and last year ran for eight touchdowns and played brilliantly in the Thanksgiving Day classic against Pen Argil last November.

Great Loss
Coach Granville Evans was naturally concerned at the loss of his ace running back and announced that his replacement would be either Pete Williams or Duane Miller, the latter a brother of the injured gragger, or both may divide the left half duties. Williams is a senior and Duane Miller is a sophomore, while the injured Miller is a junior.

Evans announced last night that he is now counting heavily on Tony Falcione and Mike DeVito to take up the slack caused by the great loss of Miller, as far as the running game is concerned.

Bangor is scheduled to wear new white uniforms tomorrow, when the Slayers oppose Stroudsburg High under the lights at Gordon Giffels field, the latter's home terrain.

Tickets for this game are on sale in Bangor, at Smith's Pharmacy. Adults will be admitted for 75 cents and students for 35 cents.

Size Of Crowd Draws Attention
Pittsburgh, (AP)—John D. Holahan, member of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission, ordered an investigation yesterday of attendance figures and financial reports on Tuesday night's fight between Lee Sala and Otis Graham at North Braddock.

Unofficial reports placed the crowd at 5,600 but the official report was 3,704 paid customers. Net receipts were reported to be $8,934.

Meeting
Holahan called a meeting for today and summoned officials of the Tri-Boro Dapper Dan Club, promoters of the fight. Anthony "Cowboy" DeLuca, matchmaker for the club, and commission deputies.

Davey, an elusive, cat-like southpaw from Detroit, speared the always-crowded Graziano with jolting rights and smashing lefts to the head and body while always going or circling his wild-swinging foe.

Rams, Giants Clash In Exhibition Tilt

New York, (AP) — The world champion Los Angeles Rams and the New York Giants play their final exhibition game tonight before both teams plunge into the regular National Football League campaign.

The game, for the benefit of the Heart Fund Milk Fund for Babies, will be held at the Polo Grounds.

Football Player Dies

New Rochelle, N. Y., (AP) — Sixteen-year-old James Ryan died in a hospital yesterday after suffering a brain hemorrhage in football practice at Iona Prep Tuesday. It was the first gridiron fatality of the year.

Phillies Sign First Negro

Philadelphia, (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies yesterday signed their first Negro baseball player, Theodore Washington, 18-year-old shortstop of the Philadelphia Stars of the Negro-National League.

Washington will sign a contract with Grubbs, Quebec, the Phillies' farm in the Provincial League.

The Phillies also signed an 18-year-old right hand pitcher, Bobby Walck of Greencastle, Pa. The boy will report to the Phillies' Salt Lake City club in the Pioneer League in 1953.

Dodgers Suffer Setback As Veteran Hurlers Combine To Give Pirates Important Win, 4-1

Brooklyn, (AP) — Howie Pollet, who almost thwarted the New York Giants' pennant drive last year when he snapped their late-season 16-game winning streak with a shutout performance, threw a roadblock at Brooklyn's flag hopes yesterday, pitching the tail-end Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-1 triumph over the harried Dodgers.

A pair of home runs by George Metkovich, good for three runs, helped Pollet to his seventh triumph of the season and his first over the Dodgers since July 27, 1951.

The 31-year-old southpaw, after hurling six shutout innings, fired in the late rounds and had to be rescued by Murry Dickson, who worked the distance against the Dodgers Tuesday night.

Pollet was only the third southpaw starter out of 19 to beat the Brooks this year. It also was only the third Pittsburgh triumph over Brooklyn in the season series of 22 games.

Winning Runs

The Pirates got all the runs they needed to win before Brooklyn starter Ben Wade could retire a single batter. The rookie right-hander, seeking his 12th win, yielded a leadoff single to Dick Smith and Metkovich followed with his sixth homer.

The Dodgers finally broke through with a tally in the seventh when Gil Hodges doubled and crossed the plate on another two-bagger by "Rube" Walker.

Metkovich got the run back for Pittsburgh, polling his second homer of the day off Joe Black, who took over in the eighth.

Pittsburgh 2-000 000 0—4 0 0 Brooklyn . . . 000 000 100—1 6 0

Yankees Move Nearer Fourth Straight Flag

Detroit, (AP) — The New York Yankees streaked closer to their fourth straight pennant with a 12-3 victory yesterday and doomed the fumbling Detroit Tigers to last place for the first time in their 32-year American League history.

With the help of homers by "Hank" Bauer and Mickey Mantle, the Yankees kept their two and one-half game margin over the all-victorious Cleveland Indians. It was New York's sixth straight victory.

Manager Casey Stengel dipped into his bag of second line pitchers and came up with a combination Ray Scarborough and Bob Kuzava—that befuddled the Tigers, only club that never had finished last in the major leagues before this season.

Combination

For the Yankees, any combination of seven New York victories or Cleveland defeats will clinch the pennant. The Yankees have nine games remaining and Cleveland eight.

The Yankees didn't need pitching and hardly needed base hits as the Tigers played like a sandlot team. Officially, they were charged with only two errors but they made a half dozen other mental lapses.

In fact, Phil Rizzuto stole home unopposed when the Yankees scored five in the fourth inning. The reason: The Tigers neglected to cover home plate during an attempted run down.

New York . . . 120 501 012—12 11 0 Detroit . . . 000 000 000—3 5 2

Browns Upset Experiment

St. Louis, (AP) — The St. Louis Browns rapped out 16 hits yesterday to drive the Boston Red Sox to cover, 10-4, before the Browns' smallest crowd of the year.

George Schmees, an outfielder who tried his hand at pitching for the first time in the major leagues, allowed two runs and four hits in two innings of work for the Red Sox before he was taken out by Manager Lou Boudreau.

Only 1,250 paid watchers the Browns found five Red Sox pitchers. Included in the barrage was Bob Nieman's 15th home run with two men on base.

Ivan Delock, who relieved Schmees at the start of the third inning was charged with the defeat. The Browns bunched six hits off Delock and his successor, Ralph Brinkner, scoring five runs.

Boston . . . 020 000 020—4 9 0 St. Louis . . . 115 210 008—10 16 0
